Even though you have never fashioned a garmen' in your life, and don't know the first thing about sewing, you can, in a half hour, make a dashin; fringed sport skirt. And it will have cost you, when finished, but eight dollars and a half.

Let us explain:

On our second floor (in the woolen dress goods section) you will find separate pieces of perfectly stunning imported wool fabrics in checks, stripes, plaids and solid colors, in just the correct width and length for sport skirts. They are edged with thick, knotted fringe, so the work of hemming and "hanging" is eliminated. All you have to do is run up the side seam and either run elastic through the top or gather it on a buckram belt, obtainable in our Notion Department. The few inches of material you cut from the top can be doubled over to make a straight belt, or you may prefer to wear a separate novelty belt of leather or metal.
